

In Bolivia people del field, of the provinces go to the marginal zones of the cities looking for work and improvement of her conditions of life, but the discrimination, rejection, delay better to their hope a morning. Those communities are not beneficiaries of the municipal nor governmental projects that do very little or almost nothing in the improvement of their agricultural production, the road routes not always are in good state and are of earth in best of the cases, the potable water is scarce what does that their health this exposing to many diseases, most of these communities also lacks electrical energy, the training centers do not count on the suitable conditions of infrastructure and the health centers are to great distance, ends let see that some first aid posts count not even on water distilled with lidocaina for the antibiotics that very are required in winter time to cure the respiratory infections... an unimaginable torture for the children who undergo it. At time of rains the swelling of the rivers avoids the free access and the works of laying of a bridge that benefits the communities it in the long term seems to be a reality. Nevertheless, much of the wealth of these localities not even to thought for their operation about their own benefit, the historical, paleontological and natural wealth makes these places only that the tourism explodes mainly in benefit of individuals, like comparative advantage respect to others, these communities very have not been affected by the in favor policy.

A grouping of professional young people of district 8 has begun to seed the hope of better days for these communities being projected actions that mean to rescue and at the same time to conserve the ancestral tradition that foments the production and transformation of natural products, also plans forms of road integration and the advantage of the tourist vein that its greater entrance would mean long term, and is not for except the beauty of these rocky places is incomparable the formation of the mountain range, sagradas mountains, cemeteries pre - Hispanic, ways pre - Hispanic, a peculiar and beautiful mountainous formation in shell form, cave paintings, ritual centers, astronomical observing points, tracks of dinosaurios, fossils, petroglifos, are among others the possibilities in these unique places in the world.

Great part of these projects will be concluded in their final phase and soon the search of sources of economic aid for the development of these depressed regions of Bolivia will be necessary, in a medium term could mean one of the more important tourist routes of South America.
